Profiting by the Stress of War.

There are undoubtedly a class of cormorants that are making living much more burdensome, especially for those in moderate circumstances, than even the necessities of the war demand. When a storekeeper raises prices beyond reason, and keeps them high regardless of the wholesale market, the poor must submit as they buy in small quantities, and we have seen prices quoted fully 50 per cent higher than the published lists authorize. The one explanation is "the war" and the greedy dealer adds an immense profit, much greater than he had in times of peace, and the smaller buyer submits. Vegetables are plentiful and reasonable, yet the prices are too high in a great majority of cases. Meat is almost prohibitive, yet the dealer is not paying very much more than a year ago, and so on down the whole list of necessities. Think of paying 15 cents for a one-pound loaf of bread. It is outrageous and unfair to every one. Milk at 15 cents is at least 3 cents too high, and the only way to get relief is to bring some of these avaricious merchants into the federal courts and make them explain. The one great excuse for all sorts of robbery is "the war" and it is being used as a club that most buyers have to submit to.

Proud and prosperous Chicago always has the best. The finest funeral chapel for funerals in America is located on Normal Blvd., 6235 to 6237. Nothing of this type has ever been built before, and it will be some time before it will be surpassed in grandeur and architectural design and finish: the cathedral glass windows, with the ancient shields, Gothic oak beam ceilings, red, blue, black and gold decorations, royal purple draperies, wrought-iron and silver lighting fixtures, cerise stone walls, green marble steps, red and gray tiled floors, organ room, family private rooms, decorated in Tiffany, with oriental rugs and oil paintings. Should this look like a million dollars to you, fear not; it is absolutely free. Regardless of the fact whether you buy a $25 casket or one for $500, you get the same Cunningham service. Tel. Wentworth 456-457. Cunningham Bldg., 6235-6245 Normal Blvd. P. S.—You will never find a lie attached to his advertisement.

Englewood's Transportation Advantages.

Did you ever stop to think of how many ways you can get to or get away from Englewood? They are simply marvelous. We have every means of communication with the outside world excepting water, and we are only three miles in either direction from big old Lake Michigan on the east or the drainage canal on the west. A dozen steam lines carry one cityward or in any direction, no less than eight direct north and south lines parallel through the Englewood district, while "cross-town" lines number seven, not speaking of the alley "L" with it's branches and divisions to Jackson park, Normal school or Ogden park. No matter where you may come from we can bring you in, and no matter where you want to go, we can send you out on some one or more of our lines. A nickel fare will take you to the north city limits without change on eicher elevated or surface lines, and one transfer will take you to any west limit for the same little jitney. If on economy bent, it would be a saving in shoe leather to ride, and inquiry shows that 42 miles may be traveled for one five-cent fare from Englewood by taking the longest transfer points. No matter where you are employed, or what your occupation, you can get away from the dirt and grim of commerce and go to your clean Englewood home in a few minutes on some of our modes of transit. The "hub of the universe" may well be moved from Boston, and the center of all things good, the veritable hub of the greatest commercial and industrial city in the world, is Englewood.

We were told of the celebration of a surprise birthday party on Asa A. Davidson of 6046 Perry Ave. last Wednesday evening, which we are confidentially assured was his seventy-third. The perpetrators were Robert Barbee, John Lyle, Frank Hollenbeck and a score of others, aided by a Jass band. They made a merry evening, topped by a most elegant luncheon. Preparations for Asa's seventy-fourth anniversary are already under way, we understand.

Our Substantial Banks.

The Times takes particular pleasure this week in presenting the official statements of 14 of the best banks in our immediate neighborhood. A look over the statements will show that they are well-patronized and sound as a dollar in every particular. The wise management of our banks, the exceptional soundness of the directors and officials and the representative citizens who compose the stockholders make our banks particularly worthy of credit and trust. After all a bank's substantial standing depends largely upon the honesty of the officials, and as all of these officials are our neighbors, and known to us, we can unhesitatingly recommend them as perfectly safe and responsible. The official statements will be found on our sixth page.

Grafting on Soldiers' Families.

There are a certain lot of so-called shyster lawyers, notaries and clerks of various sorts who are preying upon the families of soldiers, mostly of foreign extraction, who are securing fees under the pretense that they can secure the soldier's release from the army. These fellows are all frauds and vampires. No one can reach the exemption or examination boards more readily than another, and no attorney or go-between is necessary. If any soldier's friend thinks he should be released from his duties, let him apply to the exemption board of his district, or the soldier to his commanding officer at the cantonment, and an investigation will be made free of cost, and no lawyer or politician boss is necessary. There is no such thing as an authorized outside agency for releases or investigation, and any one soliciting "business" of this sort is a fraud and should be denounced to the authorities.

A movement to have purchasers carry home their purchases and receive a discount on their bills was started at Morgan Park, but failed, as the grocers did not want to allow for the delivery, and most people wanted their goods delivered at any price. This has been suggested in Englewood, but we have not heard of anyone introducing it.

He was eighty-five years of age, a veteran of the Civil war and pioneer member of Meade post, G. A. R. WHY YOUR CLOTHES COST MORE

The United States today uses 750 million pounds of wool. We produce within our own borders 250 million pounds yearly or one-third of our total requirement.

We cannot import wool during the war and the army and navy require all our available supply. To meet the existing shortage our government requests all woolen mills to mix cotton with the wool.

Therefore there will be no all wool goods from now on and what wool the market now affords has increased 100 per cent.

HERE IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY!

We have conserved a large stock of all wool pure dye cloth at the old price until our surplus stock is disposed of.

You can save from 25 to 50 per cent. on your next year's supply by ordering now.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF ENGLEWOOD.

64th St. and Yale Ave.
Pastor, Rev. Willard H. Robinson, D. D.
6530 Lafayette Ave.

At the Englewood Presbyterian church. In the morning at 10:30 Doctor Robinson will speak on "Imitating Christ." One of the saddest and most suggestive facts in modern Christianity is the frequent claim that Christ Jesus is not to be imitated in his life and work except in certain carefully noted particulars. How can we imitate him in his coming down from equality with God in heaven and becoming a man? How can we suffer for the sins of others as he did? Can we be crucified as he was? Thus Christ is set apart from man as inimitable, not really to be copied in any fair or full sense. But the gospel and the epistles tell us that we are to imitate Christ. And not until the world fairly adopts the idea that Christ is really its example will it take its true religious position or enter upon that spiritual career which will make the kingdoms of this world to be genuinely united in one monarchy of which Christ is the final king.

"The Honor System" is basically the picturization of the grief of millions—it is a great throbbing drama of a thousand thrills. NATIONAL THEATRE

Thurston, the magician, with new mysteries, scenery, properties and effects, is coming to the National week of December 2.

The interest to young and old alike grows manifest, for his coming insures a joyful holiday season. The spread of modern magic and its proper understanding are an important sign of progress, and in this sense the feats of our Herrmanns, Kellars and Thurstons are a work of great educational significance. They are instrumental in dispelling the fogs of superstition by exhibiting to the public the astonishing but natural miracles of the art of magic; and while they amuse and entertain, they fortify the people in the conviction of the reliability of science.

The life story of Thurston is in itself a history of remarkable advancement in the conjurer's art. From a small beginning with a pack of cards as his sole asset, he now carries 23 thoroughly trained assistants and two carloads of effects.

Magic carries a strong appeal to everybody, and when it is deftly handled by the man who stands alone in the mastery of his art its interest is all consuming. Thurston is the only living magician of moment.

The most prominent of his numerous new mystifying tricks and illusions are "The Master Effects of Spirit Mediums," "Mephisto's Daughter," "Every Woman's Wish," "The Materialization of Ghosts" and Mr. Thurston's latest and most marvelous effect called "Vila Captured," showing the most astoundingly realistic race between an automobile and motorcycle ever staged.

Very True.

The Easterner—Your new town is all right, but you have very poor fire protection.

The Westerner—Well, Rome wasn't built in a day.

The Easterner—Yes, but she was about burned down in a day.

Friday, November 30; 7 to 11 p. m.—Bryant Washburn in "The Fibbers," 5 parts. Did you ever tell a fib to your wife—or husband? Did you get away with it? This is a story with a real human touch that strikes home to every one. They are just little white fibs that this couple tell, with the best of motives. It leads to a veritable comedy of errors and almost a tragedy. Full of laughs and a touch of pathos. Educational Weekly, also "When Liz Lets Loose," Universal comedy.

Saturday, December 1; matinee and evening—"Arms and the Girl," five parts. The winsome Billie Burke, she of the glorious Titian locks, as the heroine in a delightful picturization of the Broadway stage success of last season, with manly Thomas Meighan as her leading man. A powerful, gripping story dealing with the present great world conflict. Some remarkable scenes, including the invasion of a Belgian town by the Prussian troops are an added attraction to a thoroughly entertaining photoplay. "Romani Rose," two-part drama; also "Pete the Prowler," Nestor comedy.

Sunday, December 2; 2 to 11 p. m.—"Flirting With Death," five parts. Dashing Herbert Rawlinson and dainty Brownie Vernon in a photoplay based on the sensational story "Sky High" by Waldemar Young and Frank Dazey. Most of you at some time or other in your career have flirted—just a little bit—but it is doubtful if many of you would have picked out the grim specter himself to carry on with as does the hero in this comedy-drama, which is replete with thrills and made agreeable through an engaging love story. "Whose Baby?" Keystone comedy; also Burton Holmes' Travelogue. Added attraction, matinee only, Pearl White in "The Fatal Ring," No. 10.

Monday, December 3; 7 to 11 p. m.—Douglas Fairbanks in "The Habit of Happiness," five parts. "Doug" is very much himself in this mirth-provoking comedy. A story of a red-blooded philanthropist whose self-appointed mission in life is to make down-hearted people laugh. "Henry's Ancestors," Drew comedy; Pathe Latest News; also Christie comedy.

Tuesday, December 4.—The best yet. Without a doubt the best picture this popular star has put forth. This is all about Charles Chaplin in "The Adventurer." You just must see it.

Tuesday, December 4; 7 to 11 p. m.—The celebrated stage stars, Peggy O'Neil and Ralph Morgan, in "The Penny Philanthropist," seven parts. An adaptation of the famous book by Clara E. Laughlin. In this feature Miss O'Neil has the same sort of wistfully pathetic role illuminated by her Irish wit as that in which she appeared in "Peg o' My Heart" and all who enjoyed her on the stage will be equally pleased with her on the screen. Also one-reel comedy.

Wednesday, December 5; 7 to 11 p. m.—"Seven Keys to Baldpate," six parts. George M. Cohan was never better, on the stage or screen, which is a guarantee in itself that you may gain a few pounds in weight if laughing has anything to do with it. You'll want to go a second time, or we miss our guess. Will keep you on the edge of your chair with excitement. Pathe Latest News; also a good comedy.

Thursday, December 6; 7 to 11 p. m.—"The Hostage," five parts. A story of red-blooded appeal with a note of real romance running through it. Beulah Marie Dix, author of "Moloch," again takes the war as a theme for this new starring vehicle for Wallace Reid, whose splendid work on the screen has been seen in so many successes. Mr. Reid plays a young lieutenant of Lowlanders who is given as hostage by his father for the good behavior. See how he uses it.

Thursday, December 6—"Our Boys at Camp Grant," showing every man in training at Rockford. Every mother, sister, brother or sweetheart should see this wonderful moving picture of the 30,000 boys in camp. Your boy and your neighbor's boy are there! See them in trench attack, bayonet practice, drill formation and in all their everyday life. Save the trip to Rockford. It's worth twice the admission fee.

Friday and Saturday, December 7-8.—William S. Hart in "The Narrow Trail;" also other attractions.

ENGLEWOOD THEATRE

If elaborateness of preparation, careful selection of principals for the various characters they are to essay, sumptuousness of production, diligent and painstaking staging of numbers, added to catchy music, a hilariously farcical "book," and a chorus comprising a score of the most shapely, talented and beautiful young women ever mustered in one aggregation, count with the theatregoer then Charles M. Baker's "Speedway Girls," an extravaganza of high merit, which furnishes the fun at the Englewood theatre next week starting Sunday matinee, December 2, should carry off the cake, icing and all.

The funmakers of whom Ed Rogers, John Black, Arthur Mayer, Jack Smith, Charles Levine, Dolly Bunch, Sue Milford and Marion Chase have the principal roles, are considered as ranking at the top of their profession, and the performance is most creditable in that with all its newness it is still burlesque of the good and rare old-fashioned kind.

The plot—this burlesque actually boasts one—is laid in two parts and many scenes, and runs more to the delightful French farce we used to relish so a few years agone than anything that has been done this season.

An unique feature of the performance is that without being obtrusive the beauty chorus occupy the stage almost continuously throughout, but their sweetness, charm, unusually good voices and rare good looks make one wish for more.

EMPRESS THEATRE

"How do they do it at the price?" is the constant query of Empress theatre patrons. Every week and twice every week the entire bill is changed, and it is difficult to chose between them as to which is the best bill. Manager Harry Mitchell is up in his business, and as soon as a real headliner is discovered Harry goes gunning for it, and it is very seldom indeed that he does not get it. See the bill this week, and you will know what we mean when we say what a good show it is.

Mr. Mitchell's long acquaintance with the big men on all circuits enables him to catch them going and coming, East or West, and many open dates are booked for the Empress that the dollar houses would be glad to book. Hereafter the old policy of matinees daily will rule, and the old price of ten cents, a thin dime, for admission is what none of the other managers can fathom and ask: "How does he manage it?" Well, that is what the proprietors pay for, his management, and he does put it over every week.

The Empress has been renovated and prettily decorated, every corner and cranny swept and cleaned, garnished with new paint and gilding so that it shines as bright as a soldier's medal. Don't make a mistake when you want an hour or two of real amusement. Hit the trail for the Empress and keep abreast of the times in all the best stage stuff. None of the old-time, small-town acts get on the stage here. The act must be good and new and unquestionable in every way. It is never a cheap show, only cheap prices.

The great beauty of the Empress is the wonderful ventilating system by which it may be easily cooled and heated always with pure fresh air, the same system, in fact, as is used in the best hospitals. Remember the Empress when you are booking your best girl for an engagement. It is sure to please her as well as yourself.

LINDEN PHOTODROME

Friday, Nov. 30—Ruth Clifford and Rupert Julian in "Mother O' Mine," a story of mother-love triumph. The most beautiful photoplay ever presented on the screens, a great drama of human interest, a pictorial tribute to motherhood. The management recommends this picture to their many patrons as one of the best pictures of its kind ever produced. Also the Burton Holmes Travel pictures and a Victor Moore comedy.

Saturday, Dec. 1.—Frank Keenan and Charles Ray in "The Coward." Frank Keenan, the eminent character actor, never appeared to greater advantage than he does in "The Coward" in the part of the strong-willed proud old colonel of the Confederacy. He portrays all the sternness of character that made famous his work as the Sheriff in "The Girl of the Golden West." Mr. Keenan is splendidly supported by Charles Ray and Gertrude Claire and the story offers many opportunities for the introduction of spectacular battle scenes. Also the Animated Weekly and a corking good comedy.

Sunday, December 2—Constance Talmadge in "Scandal," a story of a willful debutante! A wealthy caveman, smart society at its smartest, a very pleasing picture with a very pleasing star. Also a Keystone comedy.

Monday and Tuesday Dec. 3 and 4—Mabel Taliaferro in "Draft 258." "Draft 258" is a great successor to "The Slacker." It is a flaming torch of patriotism. It dramatizes the present situation in America when foreign propaganda battles for victory with native patriotism and shows the actual struggle, the honest difference of opinion that sometimes separates families, the arguments that drive home the truth to Matthey and George Alden in "Draft 258" will prove of value to every person who sees this picture.

Where Heart and Mind are United in Service for the Unfortunate

Oak Forest Infirmatory is truly the worlds greatest institution of its kind.

Visiting Committee of Cook County Press Club sees splendid work of benevolence administered for the people, by men who put both conscience and understanding in their work.

PETER REINBERG.

It is a comforting experience to turn from a world at war to find in a great eleemosynary institution of our own county the unfortunate sick and ailing; the broken in health and spirit surrounded by every health restoring influence known to medical science and the intelligent care that provides every comfort, alleviates every suffering, rebuilds morale in the faltering furnishes cheerful shelter for those dependent ones nearing the end of life's journey, and to know that it is all for humanity.

This introductory summarizes the opinion expressed by a committee of the Cook County Press Club that visited Oak Forest Infirmary on last Friday, and, personally conducted by General Superintendent Harry L. Bailey, explored the great institution from the wonderful kitchens and bakeries through the various wards and work rooms, down sunlit corridors half a mile in extent to the open air cottages for tubercular patients; through cheery dining rooms where tables were heaped high with tempting food, to the huge power plant that supplies heat and light and water and refrigeration to the institution.

Over it all there prevails such perfect cleanliness, such cheerfulness and orderliness, and that without unnecessary or irritating restraint as to create a homelikeness rare in similar institutions.

Accompanying the party of newspaper men and their ladies were President Peter Reinberg of the Board of County Commissioners of Cook County and Henry A. Zender, superintendent of public service. It was touching to note the cordial relations that exist between Mr. Reinberg, Supt. Bailey, Mr. Zender and the inmates.

Wherever he went about the various wards and buildings there was a cheerful exchange of greetings between Mr. Bailey and those under his care, and there are more than 3,000 of them, from small tots to men and women grown feeble with the years.

At frequent intervals Mr. Reinberg would be told by grateful patients how well they were being cared for. One who had been a stenographer in a Chicago office thanked him for a letter just that morning received, and which she explained was "the most fatherly letter she had received in many years," and another had to thank him for some favor performed for the folks at home, and so it went in every building visited.

It was easy to see that he regards them all, old and young, as his wards, and that he has a personal interest in each one of them. One marvels at his understanding of so many individual cases, but he seems to find no difficulty in it.

Outside the first wintry storm of the year was blowing as the inmates assigned to outdoor work came hurrying in to dinner, clad in new warm coats that Mr. Zender had just purchased for them. They looked comfortable in them and that pleased the superintendent of public service very greatly.

"I thought the men who work outdoors ought to be warmly clad," he explained, "and I'm glad I bought those coats. They certainly look good to me this weather."

These are sidelights, typical of many that were met on every hand, that show the human touch and understanding that seems to reach into the life of every patient and inmate at Oak Forest. They typify a service for the afflicted and the unfortunate, inspired by Mr. Reinberg, that has worked the most remarkable changes in the institution; that have changed it from a mere place of refuge to an institution that rebuilds and restores; that conserves self respect; that helps back to health, or smooths the way for the hopelessly sick, and makes easier the path of the aged and infirm.

Of the activities of the inmates under the direction of Supt. Bailey in making the institution self supporting, columns could be written.

Of the greenhouses designed by Mr. Reinberg to furnish flowers to the patients, of the products grown on the farm, and preserved in cans and cellars for winter use; of the hundreds of head of hogs raised and slaughtered for the meat supply, and crops of corn and vegetables grown in fields cultivated by the inmates; the work in the sewing rooms, the tailor shops, shoe shops, broom factory, the milk pasteurizing plant and other self-supporting activities columns could be written showing efficiency, and still more efficiency, in the detail of every department, and every day sees Mr. Bailey hard at work on plans that will greatly extend the usefulness of the inmates, and at the same time keep them healthfully employed while the expense of operation and maintenance is correspondingly reduced.

It is a small municipality in itself, and one that is most admirably governed—a city of 4,000 dedicated to the service of the unfortunate, where service of the heart as well as of the mind is the great essential and where it is gladly given.

At a luncheon which followed the trip of exploration Chairman B. B. Herbert of the committee voiced the sentiments of the visitors when he said in conclusion of a short talk: "We are carrying away with us an inspiring memory of a great work for humanity, intelligently and heartfully performed, and a memory which will remain long with us, to comfort us in the thought, that through you, Mr. Reinberg, and your staff, the people of Cook County are so magnificently ministering to the needs of our sick and unfortunate." In his reply Mr. Reinberg told briefly of the satisfaction he found in the work, and Editor Herriott of the Morgan Park Post, who had given the institution its name, said when called upon by President Burke of the newspaper association: "We come here at a time of doubts and misgivings of civilization and the brotherhood of man, to go away with our faith revived and restored."

"We could not see what we have here witnessed without sensing the fact that Christianity still lives, that it has not been in vain, and that the spirit of the kindly Master still dwells in the hearts of men."

Mr. Bailey withdrew when he found that he was about to be involved in the speechmaking, but Mr. Zender told in his absence of his watchful care over every department of the institution "twenty-four hours a day," of the vast improvements he had worked out in providing useful employment for the inmates, and how, under his management, the taxpayers' interests were guarded "as if they were his own." Later when it was told how Mr. Zender supervises the vast purchases for the institution, choosing his markets and studying conditions of supply and demand, exacting, always, quality and service, the committee was unanimous in declaring that here the interests of the taxpayers of Cook County were safely guarded.

In the visiting delegation were Chairman B. B. Herbert of the Ravenswood Citizen and Mrs. Herbert; President F. H. Burke of the Phillips and Burke newspapers and Mrs. Burke; Vice President Carl P. Morgan, the Calumet Index, and Marcus Aurelius, Geo. F. Roberts, the West Pullman Reporter, and Mrs. Roberts; John I. Phillips, the Phillips and Burke newspapers, and Mrs. Phillips; John H. Volp, the Blue Island Sun, and Mrs. Volp; Roy Phillips of the Weekly Review; David Herriott, former editor of Morgan Park Post; J. H. Forrester, the Lake View Independent, and Mrs. Forrester; E. J. Ryan of the Chicago Telegram; W. A. Stein of the Union Labor Advocate; Frank Furstenheim of the Telephone News, and L. A. Aggerback of the Chicago Health Department.

The world's greatest institution of its kind Oak Forest Infirmary undoubtedly is; President Reinberg and his staff have made it what it is.

On December 5, at two o'clock, an experience party for the benefit of the welfare work of the Parent-Teacher association of Calumet high school and Auburn Park school will be given. Coin holders have been provided, which may be obtained at the school. Mrs. Julia C. Hallam will speak. Subject, "My Experiences in Parent-Teacher Association Work." Mrs. B. F. Langworthy, whose failure to speak at the November meeting was due to a misunderstanding, will address the association on January 9. Please note that hereafter the association will meet at two o'clock.

Ladies' night was observed last Saturday evening by the Harmony club, and a large crowd turned out for the occasion. Several prominent members of the theatrical profession now appearing at some of the local theatres were present and a splendid musical program was rendered. Mr. J. W. Kenny was heard in several songs and he proved to be a wonderful singer. A trio of brilliant musicians were presented in T. Dwyer, F. Arnold and A. Hook, respectively violinist, pianist and 'cellist, and it could easily be discerned that they were three artists of more than ordinary ability. The harmony quartet, composed of L. Jones, S. Finnigan, L. O'Leary and E. Joyce, sang some of the latest songs and they were well received. Mr. W. Knight gave an exhibition of fancy dancing and Mr. James Kane played several selections on his ukelele. Miss Irene Mettler must also be praised for her piano accompaniments which she supplied for the artists. Dancing concluded the events and all reported having a splendid time.

Calumet High and Auburn Park Parent-Teacher Association.

Each mother is requested to earn ten dimes, or as near that amount as possible. Prizes will be given to the one who earned her dimes in the most amusing way, the most self-sacrificing way, and the most original way. Will the mothers please call at the school to get receptacles for the dimes?—Mrs. Mary J. Buffington, President.

PIG'S BLADDERS AS DECOYS

Suggestion They Would Be Mistaken for Chinese Heads in Water Won Prize as Best Idea.

During the war between China and Japan in 1894 Viceroy Liu Kun-yi issued a proclamation offering a reward to any one who could suggest a plan for destroying the enemy fleet. The prize was won by an old literary gentleman who suggested that a large number of pig's bladders should be procured and blown up tight. Then, when the wind was blowing off shore towards the fleet, these should be put in the water and the enemy would mistake them for the heads of Chinese soldiers swimming out to attack, and would open fire with all their guns. When all their ammunition was fired away the Chinese could then go out in boats and secure possession of the vessels without loss. To the foreign mind it sounded very funny, but it was quite a classical scheme.

During the Three Kingdom times the city of Hwangchow was being besieged by a hero who had clean run out of arrows. He thereupon manned a fleet of boats with straw men, and sent them under the walls at night, when the defenders shot them full of arrows. In this way he replenished his own magazine and depleted that of his opponents, thus capturing the city easily.

Conscience.

A very strong feeling makes to itself a conscience of its own—has its own piety; just as much as the feeling of the son towards the mother, which will sometimes survive amid the worst fumes of depravity.—Exchange.

Instinct.

Mrs. Van Speederly (gazing at her crying infant)—I wonder what ails it? If it was an automobile I could tell in a minute, but babies are so different.

To Gas Consumers Still Using Only Flat Flame Lights—

The candle power of all gas in Chicago was reduced on October 1st, as provided by City Ordinance. This has cut down the volume of light from flat flame burners. Therefore, to all gas consumers who are wholly dependent upon flat flame burners for illumination, this company continues to offer—

FREE— Two Junior Mantle Lights

—burner, mantle and chimney complete, and installed without charge.

One JUNIOR light will deliver nearly three times as much light as you ever got from a flat flame burner and use less than half as much gas.

Write us immediately—or fill out this coupon and turn it in where you regularly pay your gas bill—and it will receive prompt attention.

The Peoples Gas Light & Coke Company

I am wholly dependent upon flat flame burners for illumination and hereby apply for free installation of two (2) Junior mantle lights as provided by City Ordinance, passed June 25, 1917.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. B. B. SUTCLIFFE, Extension Department Moody Bible Institute.)
(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR DECEMBER 2

NEHEMIAH BUILDS THE WALL OF JERUSALEM.

LESSON TEXT—Nehemiah 4:7-21.

GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is my Helper and I will not fear what man shall do unto me.—Hebrews 13:6.

The lesson of November 18 spoke of Nehemiah journeying to Jerusalem. After his arrival he spent three days in looking over the work; then he told the priests and other leaders his plans. Enthusiasm was awakened, all classes were aroused, the work of the building of the wall of the city was apportioned among the people, and soon half of the wall was completed "for the people had a mind to work."

I. The Wrath of the Enemy, vv. 7-9. The progress of the work kept up the anger of Sanballat the Horonite and his friends who formed an alliance to hinder the wall being built (vv. 7, 8). When God begins to work through his people, Satan is aroused and tries to interfere. It is no sign that a Christian is out of the will of God when opposition is felt. The enemy will always be on hand to try to hinder whenever a real work for God is going forward. Dead formal Christianity runs smoothly and with deadly monotony and Satan lets it alone, but as soon as some results of real work are seen, opposition is at once felt. Thus it was when God sent his Son into the world, and so it has been in every movement for God in the church, and so it will be in the individual Christian life. From the next verse (9) we would almost think that Nehemiah had heard our Lord's injunction to "watch and pray." Many do much watching and fail; many do much praying and fail; but none ever turns to watching and praying without finding victory. Prayer alone means sloth; watching alone means pride; but watching and praying victory.

II. Internal Opposition, vv. 10-14. Sanballat and his friends were not the only ones Nehemiah had to contend with. Among those that worked on the wall were some shirkers and grumblers. They had become discouraged in the work and began to say they could never complete it (v. 10). If Satan fails to hinder the work from the outside, he will attempt to create dissatisfaction on the inside. Internal confusion of the church is more to be dreaded than open opposition from a known enemy. Dissension and confusion in the church can usually be traced to workers becoming discouraged. The plot of the enemy to make a surprise attack was discovered by the Jews who lived outside the city. They reported it not once, but ten times, with the suggestion that the work on the wall be stopped, and safety sought by leaving the city altogether (vv. 11, 12). When the enemy's open opposition fails and discouragement has been tried, an attempt is made to bring fear upon the workers. But the Bible is full of exhortations for Christians to "fear not." Could these workers on the walls of Jerusalem have seen the unseen, it would have made little differences to them whether the enemies were numbered by tens or thousands, and could Christians today realize that God is for them, all opposition would be as nothing. (I Cor. 10:13; Rom. 8:31; Phil. 4:13). Nehemiah at once proceeded to allay the fears (13, 14). Armed forces were arranged about the walls to guard against the reported surprise attack. The warriors were placed so that in the event of battle they would be protecting their own particular families. Then Nehemiah made a short speech of encouragement to the people, the heart of which was "Remember the Lord which is great and terrible." Remembering him would drive the fear away. They who are on the Lord's side are already victors even before the battle has begun. Someone said to a great general before a certain battle began: "I hope the Lord is on our side." The reply was: "I trust we are on the Lord's side." When this is true, there need be no fear whether the enemies be few or many. Nehemiah then exhorted them to fight for their families and their homes. This two-fold secret of the victory is presented to us over and over in this book of Nehemiah, and nowhere is so prominent as in this lesson. Victory for the Christian depends on two things: We must trust in the Lord as though all depended on him, and we must work and fight as though all depended on us. This is the secret of the success of Nehemiah.

III. The Progress of the Work, (vv. 15-21). The speech of Nehemiah having quieted the fears of the people and the enemy having heard that their plans were known and that God had brought their counsel to nought, all the people returned to the work with renewed enthusiasm and purpose (15). There was a rearrangement of forces (16-21). Half of the people worked; half, full armed, stood guard. A trumpeter was beside Nehemiah, so that at the first alarm from outside all the workers and warriors could be called to the threatened spot. Then, after all was done that could be done in the way of protection, they went ahead with the building of the wall, encouraged with the word of their leader "Our God shall fight for us." So the Christian is going ahead in spite of all opposition being God's instrument doing God's work with God's power, knowing that "Our God shall fight for us."

Divine Chemistry.

There is no finer chemistry than that by which the element of suffering is so compounded with spiritual forces that it issues to the world as gentleness and strength.—G. S. Merriam.

True Patriotism.

Patriotism consists not in waving a flag but in striving that our country shall be righteous as well as strong.—James Bryce.

Discouraging Satan.

How discouraged Satan would be if the majority of Christians were as consecrated and loyal as are a few!

Help Others.

Made Garden by Electric Light.

Gardeners who had only evenings in which to care for their vegetable patches, were handicapped by the little daylight allowed them. With this difficulty in view, a New Orleans electrical company has put on the market a light which readily lights a fair-sized garden. This light is mounted on a pole, and its glow intensified by a reflector. The lower end of the pole is pointed, and set firmly in the soft soil. The plug may be attached to a socket within the house.

WOMEN SUFFERERS MAY NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmers' Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

Bully Incident.

In these times, when our men are departing for the front and there are flag presentations and sword-givings galore, and speech-makings in like proportions, some simple form of address and response might come in very handy for those who must act as parties of the first part in such functions, suggests an exchange. It may be that the words spoken at the presentation of a sword to Col. William Sirwell of the Seventy-eighth Pennsylvania regiment, as he was starting off to the Civil war, with a few modifying touches, be made to serve in the present emergencies. Captain Gillespie, who made the presentation speech, said:

"Here WE are, and here IT is. This is a bully sword, and comes from bully boys; take it, and use it in a bully manner."

Colonel Sirwell replied:

"Captain, that was a bully speech. Let's have a bully drink."

Time was when Colonel Roosevelt would have said that was a bully incident.

Shopping.

"I never saw a woman so crazy over shopping as she is."

"Is she really?"

"Why, the other day she went to a prominent surgeon and priced a number of his operations."

Mistaken for Patriotism.

A small youngster has been drilled by his mother in politeness and courtesy toward the opposite sex until he is a model for his years, relates the Indianapolis News. It is quite as natural for him to rise when a woman enters the room as it is for the average boy to sit still. One day he was playing with a companion of his own age who is quite as bright, but hasn't acquired all the rules of etiquette along with infantile diseases. This boy's mother came into the room several times in the course of the morning, and each time the polite youngster rose to his feet and stood until she had gone. After a time the other youngster noticed this strange proceeding, and said curiously: "Say d' you think my mother is the 'Star-Spangled Banner?'"

The men who are lifting the world upward and onward are those who encourage more than criticize.

Success will go a block out of its way to dodge a lazy man.

At Different Times Was in Possession of Germany, Russia, Poland and Sweden.

Dorpat is one of the important centers of population in the Baltic province of Livonia, which lies on the line of advance of the German offensive in the direction of Petrograd, says a bulletin issued by the National Geographic society.

Situated on the south bank of the River Embach, which flows eastward into Lake Peipus, Dorpat is connected by rail with both Reval and Riga and also has a triweekly steamboat service connecting it with the trade center of Pskov, on the Velikaya, one of the water routes connecting the Baltic with Southern Russia. The distance to Riga by rail is 156 miles, in a southwesterly direction, while Reval lies to the northwest a distance of 118 miles.

Except for one or two churches, including the cathedral which crowns Domberg (Cathedral hill) and the castle which rises on the brow of Schlossberg (Castle hill), there are few medieval buildings in the town, owing to the fact that the place was almost completely destroyed by fire in 1777. It had suffered from conflagration on two previous occasions when invading armies punished it for its stubborn resistance. The old fortifications have also been dismantled and attractive promenades now take the place of the old walls and earthworks.

Dorpat is known by many names (Yuriev, Dorpt, Derpt, Tarto, Tartolin and Tchebata), a fact which recalls its tempestuous history during the sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, when it was a veritable shuttlecock city, being tossed back and forth between contending nations which made the Baltic provinces their battlegrounds. It is supposed to have been founded by a prince of Kiev early in the eleventh century. Two hundred years later the Teutonic knights arrived, and the year following their advent the cathedral was established on the Domberg. Russia ousted the Germans in 1558; Poland took possession in 1582; Sweden seized the town in 1600; Poland retook it in 1603; Sweden was once more in possession in 1625; Russia asserted its claims in 1666, followed by a long period of Sweden-Russian activities which resulted in Russia's making good its claim in 1704. Four years later a large part of the population was deported to the interior of Russia.

Before the outbreak of the world war Dorpat was the headquarters of the Eighteenth army corps of Russia. It has a population of 50,000, and ever since the middle ages, when it was a member of the Hanseatic league, it has enjoyed considerable trade with Pskov and Novgorod. The agricultural fair, held in August of each year, is an important feature of the city's life in times of peace.

To Warn Future Kings.

Premier Venizelos has announced his intention of placing a marble plaque in the chamber of deputies, where future kings may see it when they take the oath of office, warning them against usurping the rights of the people, writes an Athens correspondent.

He says that when he is in London, and visits the house of commons, he observes at the entrance to Westminster a conspicuous plaque reading: "Here was beheaded Charles I, King of England, for having usurped the liberties of the people of England." Whenever a king now goes to Westminster to open or close the work of parliament he passes directly before this plaque, which has served for 200 years to warn British kings not to trench on the rights of the people. Following this precedent, M. Venizelos will inscribe on the plaque in the chamber here:

"King Constantine lost his throne for twice dismissing the parliament elected by the people and imposing his personal policy on the people, while the dismissed parliament returning to power upheld the constitutional institutions of the country."

It's a Century Old.

Occasionally we come across some article of manufacture which has been improved upon year after year, only to return again to its original state as the most desirable. This is true of the pocket-knife. You will find it in all degrees of perfection and ornamentation, but the style most approved at the present moment is that of the old navy knife—invented no one knows how long ago. This knife is the instant action, drop-out type, and is made in two styles, either of which the jackie prefers above all modern pull-out and push-button types. The blade simply slides in a groove so that it is opened by the same movement which jerks it out of the pocket. When it has been fouled from long usage, the entire blade can be raked out and cleaned. The jackie prizes its simplicity when he is up aloft, with only one hand free, and when his fingers are stiff and numb. At such times any other kind would be useless.—Popular Science Monthly.

Chloroform and Uniform.

There sure never was a more self-important lieutenant than Smithers. One day off parade he remonstrated with Private Spudlock for some trivial reason, and the old soldier resented the unjust dressing-down.

"You think you know army matters better than I do?" barked the bumptious officer, superiorily.

"Well, I don't know, sir," he drawled; "but I reckon I've been in chloroform as long as you've been in uniform."

Distracting Attention.

"In the good old days town scolds were severely dealt with."

"So they were, but the ducking stool has gone out of fashion."

"Yes. About the only way we can hope to get any relief from a scold nowadays is to conx her into a motion picture theater and get her interested in a film."

A Good Plan.

"Her husband lets her have her own way in everything."

"It's a good idea."

"It is. She doesn't want to do half as many things she used to when she thought he was going to object to her doing some of them."

Continue Winter Fishing.

Owing to the establishment of additional cold storage plants in Newfoundland, it is probable that the winter fishery will be continued in Placentia, Trinity and Bonavista bays, as well as on the southwest coast, until the ice obstructs operations. It is said that this is an opportune time further to develop turbot fishing in the deep waters of Trinity bay.

NEW AUTOMATIC LIGHT BUOY

Produces Its Own Electric Current and Requires Only Casual Attention—Being Operated at Small Cost.

Because an automatic light buoy designed by an inventor of marine apparatus produces its own electric current and demands only casual attention, the cost of maintaining it amounts to practically nothing, Says Popular Mechanics Magazine. Its mechanism is not complicated. A vertical shaft mounted on ball bearings is actuated by a weighted horizontal arm that swings back and forth as the buoy is rocked by the waves. The motion is transmitted through gears to a high-tension magneto. Each time the weights swing either to the left or the right, the generator makes a few quick turns and develops a strong spark that passes through a gas-filled glass tube and produces a bright flash of light.

Obviously the strength and frequency of the flashes increase as the sea grows rougher.

The primatic outer cylinder of the lamp is red, blue or any desired color. There is no filament in the gas-filled tube.

Demand and Supply.

There's such a demand for vegetables that some of the hucksters haven't time to get the baskets full.

"Did your wife do anything for her cold?"

"Yes, she gave it to me."

Red Blood and Courage!

(BY DR. W. C. LUCAS.)

What drives the men right up to the trenches in this war is courage, and it's red blood that "puts the heart" in the men. Did any one ever see a puny, thin-blooded man ever rush into the fight with any chance of winning out? With rich, pure blood you can face any hardship, reach any goal. But you are handicapped in the race of life without it. Every tissue, bone, muscle, should take from the blood certain materials and return to it certain others. When the poisons accumulate in the blood, perhaps the face breaks out in pimples, or boils appear on the neck, and we feel languid, tired, our vitality is at a low ebb, and we easily catch cold.

It's time to take an alterative extract and blood-purifier, taken from Nature's forests. Such a one is made up of Golden Seal, Blood and Stone root, Oregon Grape and Queen's root—extracted with glycerine and made into sugar-coated tablets or liquid, and this has been sold by druggists for the past fifty years as Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Tablets 69 cents.

NEOGA, ILL.—"Some six years ago I was all run-down from work and worry. Am a blacksmith by trade. I had to give up work as I was so nervous at times I did not know what to do. I could eat scarcely anything and was so weak I could barely walk from the house to the store. Was in this condition for about a month when I commenced to use Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Pellets. After using the above remedies I felt like a new person, and since that I have been using Dr. Pierce's remedies we never need a medicine. I find they do me more good than any medicine I ever used, and I am ever ready to tell others of the good they have done me and my faith in them."—F. M. GOURLEY.

Backache of Women

How this Woman Suffered and Was Relieved.

Fort Fairfield, Maine.—"For many months I suffered from backache caused by female troubles so I was unable to do my house work. I took treatments for it but received no help whatever. "The mon that retires frum business befoor he dies, most ginerally gits in the way," moralizes Casey.

Having been properly thankful, now start in again trying to make yourself worthy of thanks for next year.

A scientist claims that the average man is 75 per cent water. I'll bet he didn't try out on a Milwaukee man.

Casey says, "The felly thot kin drhink a quart widout showin' ut, isn't in ut wid the felly thot kin show a quart widout dhrinkin' ut."

"My wife thinks I'm a treasure," said the newly married man. "Thot's awl rough jist now," said Casey. "Mine do be the same, ownly she thinks Oi'm a treasury."

A consistent slacker gives as his reason for not joining in the war affairs, that as King George of England and the kaiser are cousins he does not want to mix up in family brawls.

"Ah, love, I would like to listen to you all night," said Clarence, as he rose to go. Six months after they were married he chanced to stop out 15 minutes after his hour, and he had his desire gratified.

Casey was telling me of a trip he took to the West side yesterday. He said: "I got shaved whilst Oi wor over thare, an' the barber tould me an intereshtin' story, and," he continued, "he illustrated ut wid cuts."

He was snoring and the Pullman conductor woke him up. He snarled: "What do you mean by waking me up out of a sound sleep?" And the porter only said: "Jus' becos de sound was too enthusiastic fer de res of de passingers, sah." Then he got mad.

A schoolmistress asked her class to explain the word "bachelor" and she was amused when a little girl answered, "A bachelor is a very happy man." "Where did you learn that?" asked the schoolmistress. "Father told me."

Brown—"I see that Robinson has got a job at last. He's working now in Smith's livery stable." Jones—"What's he doing there?" Brown—"Smith has some horses that won't take the bit, so Robinson has to talk to them till they yawn."

When Casey was asked about the reputation for truth and veracity of a neighbor, he said: "Will Oi don't want to do iny man an injustice, boot Oi will say thot if his neighbors wor to see him lookin' as if he wor dead, they would want some corroborative ividince befoor they would be willin' to bury him."

I had admired a beautiful engraved locket a young lady wore about her neck, and of course remarked, "I suppose you carry a memento of some sort in it," and she answered: "Yes, I carry a lock of my husband's hair." "But your husband is still alive," I said. "Yes, but his hair is gone," was the reply.

We had an old-time merchant in Englewood many years ago who had an exceptionally lazy clerk who explained his laziness by saying he was a somnambulist and was always tired from walking in his sleep. The old man said: "Well, I guess I could git on with a man that walked in his sleep, but I'm darned if I can git along with a man who sleeps in his walk."

A recruiting sergeant stationed in the south of Ireland met Pat and asked him to join the army. The latter refused, whereupon the sergeant asked his reason for refusing. "Aren't the king and the kaiser cousins?" asked Pat. "Yes," said the recruiting sergeant. "Well," said Pat, "begor I once interfered in a family squabble, and I'm not going to do so again."

The famous scientist, Sir Archibald Geikie, although a Scotsman, is not above thoroughly enjoying a joke even though it is against his countrymen. One he tells himself is about an Englishman and a Scotsman who went to Egypt together and paid a visit to the pyramids. The Englishman was lost in admiration at the wonderful sight and presently asked his companion for his opinion. The Scotsman shook his head sorrowfully. "Ah, mon," he said with a sigh, "what a lot of mason work not to be bringing any rent."

General Sheridan often gave us old-time reporters good copy in telling of stories of the war. I recall one of where his army was on the retreat and closely pursued by the enemy. Calling his aid, a husky young Irishman, he asked him: "Who are our rear guard?" and unhesitatingly the aid answered: "Thim felly's thot hov the slowest horses, sur."

He had been visiting cousins in the city and hadn't bought a single gold brick, and he has regaled his friends at the fireside about his experiences, he said: "Say, them city fellers ain't so goldarned sharp as you'd think they be. Why, I seed a wagon goin' by that was peddlin' artificial ice, and them durn fool city yops were buyin' it right along an' takin' it for the real thing."

It is amusing to read in the city dailies that women should not be allowed to drive an automobile, as they are reckless speeders, when it is a notorious fact that the most lawless speeders and road hogs on earth are the drivers of the city papers' autos. When arrested for their escapades the officer arresting them is often sent to the "tall grass" for daring to hinder their ruthless progress. They are the "Huns" of automobile life, and the papers are the kaisers.

Some time ago a charming girl came to town to spend a week with a young woman friend. While there she was induced to take part in a church bazaar, and was given charge of the confectionery stall. Eventually a middle-aged man was led that way. "They tell me I must buy some chocolates," smiled the victim, picking up a box from the stall. "How much is this?" "Five dollars," answered the girl, without visible evidence of conscientious pangs. "Um," thoughtfully returned the victim, glancing from the chocolates to the girl, "aren't you a little dear?" "Well," coyly rejoined the other, "that's what all the boys say."

Sunshine Club.

The Sunshine club met at the home of Mrs. Lewis, 531 65th Pl., on November 16, for an evening pound party for the Woman's Shelter home, and received a generous number of pounds. On the program, Miss Hellen Parson favored us with several readings, and several younger ones gave excellent readings, all well worth hearing and very much enjoyed by the older ones. The hostess then served dainty refreshments and all enjoyed a social hour. They will meet at the home of Mrs. Eugene Judd, 634 61st Pl. on December 13.

This week Norse stories will be told to both groups of children. All children invited to attend.

Englewood Woman's Club.

The Literature Department to Meet Monday Morning, December 3—William I. Thomas to Speak on "The New Poland" in the Afternoon.

Monday morning, December 26, the education department held its second program of the year. Mrs. R. E. Holmes is chairman and presided at this meeting, bringing before the members of this department and their friends several items of educational interest, namely, a protest made by the Woman's clubs against the closing of school buildings of evenings.

The board of education through the evening school department in co-operation with the signal corps of the United States army is offering instruction in telegraphy to men registered for the draft. A class is being organized in the Englewood high school which will meet four evenings a week at 7:30. Any man registered is eligible for admission to this class. When a student has attained a reasonable proficiency in sending and receiving by the Continental code, and called for service, he may have the choice of going into the signal corps.

Mrs. Holmes called on the following for reports: Mrs. Raymond Smith, Mrs. Fred L. Croft, Mrs. A. M. Hunter and Mrs. George S. Haskell. The latter is chairman of the moving picture committee of this department and the following is taken from her paper:

"Why do we have a motion picture chairman? Because we have had plays thrown on the screen. If pictures had been clean and amusing there would have been no call for the clubwomen to have a motion picture committee. The place of a motion picture chairman in the state of Illinois today is comparatively easy because the matter has been so thoroughly standardized and the attitude of the federation so well defined. We will simply have to mark time and keep in touch with the general situation and help build sentiment for a state board of censors; in other words, we will have 'to keep our eye on the ball.' We will have to keep the club members in touch with the general situation."

The speaker of the morning, Katherine Knowles Robbins, chairman of American speech committee of the Chicago Woman's club, was then introduced. Her subject, "The Question of Our Speech," a vital question, was listened to with interest. The following suggested by Mrs. Robbins speaks for itself:

"Whereas, for the sake of greater efficiency in all walks of life, better voices, better articulation and enunciation are much to be desired, therefore, be it resolved, that we indorse the effort that is being made by the American speech committee of the Chicago Woman's club to raise the standard of American speech."

At the close of the talk by Mrs. Robbins a discussion led by Mrs. Frederick Dracass was enjoyed. She gave a brief outline of her work in the high school. Mrs. Dracass was instrumental in getting oral speech in the schools and she taught in the first high school adopting this method, which was recognized by the state.

A warm welcome was given to Mrs. Charles S. Clark at the afternoon meeting, who in turn greeted the large attendance which had gathered in the clubroom, the Ridge Woman's club being the guests of honor. Mrs. Clark, owing to illness, has been absent from the club work for the past five weeks and it was indeed a pleasure to see her back again at the head of the organization. Mrs. R. Maynard Reed, vice president, served during this time most acceptably.

After "Illinois" was sung, Mr. Frederick Bruegger, director of the Players' Workshop, made a few introductory remarks regarding the plans for the proposed municipal theatre in Chicago, and if nothing intervenes, it will be in readiness within two years.

Two clever plays were presented by players from this workshop. "Will o' the Wisp," written by Doris Hallman of Professor Baker's Harvard dramatic class, and a play by Mr. Bruegger entitled "Nix on the Friendship." J. Blanding Sloan and Charles P. Larsen designed the costumes. The former plan was produced by Mrs. Norman T. Hobson and with Meta Rosenthal, Cleland Harris and Florence Saffles, these completed the members of the cast. Each contributed her share in making it a success.

The latter play was given by Gretchen Riggs, Jennie Bowman-Ricketts and Mr. Arvid Anderson. The action throughout was good, with here and there besprinkled a touch of pathos.

Lucy Cluff gave several interpretative dances, with Mr. Arvid Anderson as accompanist, which were enjoyed.

Next Monday morning the literature department will meet. Mrs. Frank G. Bannister will read poems of James Whitcomb Riley. Mrs. Sampson, a reader of note, will present some interesting poems. In the afternoon a lecture on "The New Poland," by William I. Thomas, with vocal numbers by Mrs. John F. Smulski, soprano, will be heard. The guests of honor will be the Political Equality league. Mrs. George S. Haskell is hostess.

The Englewood-Morgan Park Share in the Y. M. C. A. War Fund Campaign.

The people of the Englewood-Morgan Park district are with the boys in uniform. The apportionment by the city organization in the Y. M. C. A. war fund campaign was 5,000 subscriptions. The loyalty and enthusiasm not yet subsided bids fair to carry the total from 100 to 200 above the allotment to district "F."

As executive secretary, the writer could not see that possible. Not knowing the response that the people of the city and the nation would make, I placed the norm for this district at 10,000 subscriptions, and proceeded to make the following deductions to determine what we might more fully expect would be our result: For beginning late, a deduction of 20 per cent; without a Y. M. C. A. in the district, 20 per cent; without the assistance of a full employed staff, office equipment and thorough present organization, 20 per cent; delay in printed material, 20 per cent.

Allowing for those deductions of 80 per cent, I felt that only 2,000 subscriptions could be expected from this district. That over 5,000 has been secured must be admitted as wonderful. The good-will, the enthusiasm and the success of this campaign must excite some interest as to what the next will produce if begun in time and well organized.

Childish Deductions.

Mary and her little brother, Billie, were standing in the parlor of a big hotel. Much awed at their luxurious surroundings, they were gazing about, when Billie's glance fell on a picture of Marie Antoinette. Edging up to Mary, he whispered: "Who's that lady?" To which Mary replied in a confidential tone: "Why, she's the one that owns the furniture."

The Englewood Sunday Evening Club.

We believe that Professor Zueblin gave to us last Sunday evening one of the most interesting and vital talks that our Englewood audience has enjoyed, and we feel certain that his plea for honest and constructive thought upon the part of the average American—in place of our present sublime indifference—found a response in the heart of every listener. In commenting upon our speaker for next Sunday evening, he said he hoped that Doctor Minakuchi would handle his subject with absolute sincerity and not mislead us through a diplomatic treatment of the same.

Dr. Yutaka Minakuchi is a Japanese lecturer and minister. He was educated in the Universities of Kentucky, North Carolina and Virginia and at Yale. In the great "Men and Religion Forward Movement" organized and put in operation a few years ago, as a necessary work in further enlisting men in Christian work, Doctor Minakuchi was chosen as one of the chief orators. He served an American congregation in Asheville, N. C., for three years as its regular pastor, and during the past year has acted as pastor of three churches, which have united as one, in our own state.

In this lecture on "The Border Land" Mr. Minakuchi will discuss certain contributions which the Eastern and Western civilizations have made toward world progress. The salient features of each civilization will be brought out. Some of the radical theories and arguments which have been circulated of late will be discussed and thier fallacies exposed. An effort will be made to find the "border land"—the place of reconciliation between these two seemingly opposed civilizations.

Doctor Minakuchi has no purpose to serve in this lecture, save to present the truth and produce a better understanding of the real questions involved in a discussion which, in many instances, has been marked by much more noise than light. Every thinking citizen will be interested in his sane and intelligent presentation of the matter.

The soloist next Sunday evening will be Miss Hazel Huntley, contralto, and there will be the usual organ recital from 7:15 to 7:30 by Mr. George R. Kurtz. You are most cordially invited to meet with us in the auditorium of the Englewood Presbyterian church, corner of Yale Ave. and West 64th St., and enjoy Doctor Minakuchi's lecture.

Captain R. Hugh Knyvett

Will give his thrilling war lecture at Masonic hall next Wednesday evening, December 5, at eight o'clock. Captain Knyvett has filled Orchestra Hall three times, and Englewood should congratulate herself in being able to secure Captain Knyvett at this time. Captain Knyvett was intelligence officer and scout, Fifteenth Australian infantry, receiving twenty wounds at Bapaume. He is speaking for the benefit of the Comfort and Aid association of the Seventy-fifth district, National army. Tickets are 75 cents and $1. Doctor White to Speak on the Germans Sunday.

The seating capacity of the People's Liberal church is all too small to accommodate those who desired to hear Dr. R. A. White deliver his illustrated lecture last Sunday night, and we would advise those who want to hear him this Sunday to get there early. His evening subject, beginning at 7:45, is, "Germany, and Her Dreams of Weltmacht." The doctor's extensive travels in Germany have enabled him to secure a great number of handsomely colored slides illustrating the interesting subject of his lecture. Doctor White's wonderful eloquence and his straightforward way of saying things have a charm few pulpit orators attain. He is never flamboyant, never loses his head, but tells of what he knows and his impressions in a way that makes one feel he is enjoying the experiences of the talker in a heart-to-heart conversation. In the morning, at 10:30, Doctor White will speak on "Bernhardi, or Christ," this being the first of two Doctor White will deliver on this most interesting subject. There is no admission to Doctor White's evening lectures, and everyone is cordially invited to hear them, and those that do will have a better understanding of the German people than ever before.

Hon. Alfred VanDuser's Funeral.

The funeral of Hon Alfred VanDuser, representative from the Eleventh senatorial district, who died last Thursday at his home, 411 60th St., was held Sunday afternoon and very largely attended.

Services were held at Covenant Baptist church and Cook county lodge, I. O. O. F., of which he was a loyal member, officiated at the grave at Mt. Greenwood where the remains were interred.

Mr. VanDuser was born in Englewood in 1874 and resided here all of his life, and was engaged in the undertaking business for some time. He was elected a member of the state legislature two years ago and was a faithful member, devoting himself to the betterment of conditions in his district and state.

He is survived by his wife and two sons, Milton and Ernest, who have the heartfelt sympathy of a host of friends.

Community Club of Englewood

At the regular business meeting of the club, November 27, it was voted to meet the assessment of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs for the library and recreation features of the Y. M. C. A. camps by taxing each member 25 cents, payable to the club treasurer.

Ten dollars was also voted to the Suffrage alliance to help gain that power for women which is theirs by right of citizenship and which their noble response to the nation's call in time of need shows they are clearly entitled to. However, they cannot be lulled by the expressed thought that "what is right is to be," but they must put their shoulders to the wheel and work for it.

Mrs. Dracass, Third district library chairman, gave an illuminating report on the needs of the state and the camps for books and magazines.

The response to the call for a book and magazine shower was answered by a number of the members, but those who "forgot" may still hand in their gifts to the library management (Hiram Kelly branch), marked for the Community club, with the name of the donor inclosed, or to any of the officers of the club.

These books will be sorted by a committee and sent where they are most needed.

Mrs. Ranlston's report of the convention of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs was interesting, in that it showed something of the scope of the work, and things of real worth being accomplished by the women's clubs of the state.

The Indian and Thanksgiving stories of Miss Wilson, with their timely lessons, were much enjoyed.

On December 11 the club will meet with Mrs. Chas. S. Denoen, 457 West 61st Pl.

Englewood High School Notes.

The Juniors and Seniors have pledged themselves to give individually 50 cents towards some worthy war cause. At the last 3A party a very enjoyable entertainment was given and refreshments were served.

As usual, Englewood will be represented by both a heavyweight and lightweight basketball team. About 40 men came out, and they are coming along in fine shape. The lights, especially, have an excellent chance for the championship.

Yet, there was victory in defeat, for Englewood put over the first score that was made on Hyde Park this year. The touchdown was made from kick-off, "Butch" Bromstead making a brilliant run of 85 yards. Severin kicked goal.

On Saturday, November 17, Englewood had its annual football game with Hyde Park. Our boys put up a good game, but the line was weak in spots and could not stop the short plays and line plunges of the Blue and White. Consequently, we lost, 54-7.

One of the graduates of 1901, Henry R. Smalley, has been made a major in the United States cavalry. Another graduate, Joseph Elliot, a colored boy, has been promoted to a sergeant. The school now has on its honor list the names of 225 men from this school who are connected with the war.

Under Miss Allin's tutelage, military French is taught on Tuesdays. Everyone is invited. Multitudes of girls are making portfolios, filled with everything a fighter needs, and are presenting one to every Englewood high school man abroad or in training. Christmas cards, either made at home or at school, or bought, are wanted to send to the men fighting abroad or in training at home. Any cards appropriate to Christmas or New Years will be gratefully received.

There are 57 girls knitting sweaters, 12 doing wristlets, 12 doing helmets and 15 are working on socks at the school. These girls have no regular, specified time to work, but take odd moments. They meet in room 27 the end of each lunch period for a few moments of comparing and improving: 48 beginners at knitting are working on materials for Belgium refugees. The girls from the sewing room have sent away two large bundles of sewing goods for Belgian boys, and are now working on dresses for the girls of Belgium. Miss Riley has offered to instruct the boys in the gentle art of knitting, but so far no one has applied. But—there's hope!

A Spooner.

"Does Claude love you?"
"He tries to, awfully."
